Swissquote implements Crypto Dynamic Pricing

Swissquote, Switzerland's leading digital bank, is enhancing its cryptocurrency trading experience with the launch of Crypto Dynamic Pricing, bringing greater transparency, competitiveness, and industry-standard pricing mechanics to all clients.

Swissquote's own cryptocurrency exchange, SQX, introduces on November 25, 2025, a dynamic fee structure designed to reward recurring trading activity and provide a fair, uniform model across the entire client base.

Swissquote's SQX is designed to deliver a superior trading experience through deep liquidity, fast execution, and a secure, Swiss-regulated environment. SQX aggregates liquidity from different liquidity hubs. This results in more competitive bid and ask prices – and all within a secure trading environment, available 24/7.

The new pricing applies to all Swissquote clients, ensuring full transparency and consistency across the platform.

The pricing model goes as low as 0.08% and follows global crypto-exchange standards, including:

- MAKER/TAKER structure with MAKER discount
- 30-day rolling volume tiers

Pricing available as of November 25, 2025:

Tier name		USD	Maker	Taker
Standard	I	-	1%	1%
	II	6,000	0.90%	0.95%
